

THE 2023 LEGAL GUIDE TO PRIVACY LAW AND INFORMATION MANAGEMENT IN HEALTHCARE

Privacy laws in healthcare are complex. Now more than ever, missteps can lead to regulatory investigations, costly litigation and reputational damage.

Spend a day with Canada's leading health and privacy law experts - you will get the knowledge and practical tools your organization needs including:

- Collaborative decision-making and information sharing for Ontario Health Teams (OHT's)
- Lessons from the trenches: what HIROC and your "breach coach" want you to know
- Privacy considerations in digital health contracting
- Perspective of the IPC on current issues: what they are seeing and what's on the horizon
- IPC reporting obligations: what they are, when they are triggered
- Legal, practical and strategic considerations for reporting

PLUS! Get the regulator's perspective directly from the Office of the Information & Privacy Commissioner of Ontario

THE 2023 LEGAL GUIDE TO Privacy Law and Information Management in Healthcare

Recent high-profile cases along with fallout from the pandemic highlight how critical it has become to ensure personal health information is protected and not misused.

If you are a healthcare risk manager, privacy officer, director of care, lawyer advising on privacy and information management issues, nurse or nurse educator or healthcare worker, it is more important than ever that you keep on top of the latest legal developments, and have a solid, current understanding of the key issues.

Learning from a faculty of legal and health experts, you will:

- Leave with an understanding of data sharing and collaborative decision-making between Ontario Health Teams
- Learn about a strategic approach to developing self-governance and training to foster a data-informed culture
- Hear about hot topics, new trends and the current snapshot around cyberattacks
- Gain helpful tips for drafting data sharing agreements
- Walk through IPC reporting obligations and when they are triggered
- Gain legal and practical considerations in procurement and client-centered collaborations
