

September 2022

Are Truth and Reconciliation part of your lifelong learning?

The National Day of Truth and Reconciliation on September 30 is a time for recognition and reflection on the impact of the Indian residential school system on Indigenous communities. As we approach the second marking of “Orange Shirt Day” as September 30 is also known, amongst other ways of honoring lost children and survivors, it’s timely to review our own progress on the Truth and Reconciliation Commission’s Calls to Action in its 2015 report, and specifically those in the justice area. Welcoming our new Fall 2022 full-time students and award winners

This Fall, OsgoodePD welcomes more than 130 full-time Professional LLM students from 23 different countries. Celebration and growth were a theme of this year’s orientation event, with Dean Mary Condon, Professor Jinyan Li, and OsgoodePD’s Executive Director & Assistant Dean Victoria Watkins all remarking on the strength of this year’s incoming class. The diversity and professional experience of our student body is a key feature of the program, as our seminar-style classes allow for rich discussions about the law from around the world. The Osgoode Certificate in Advanced HR Law for Senior HR Executives takes a strategic approach

Having worked for nearly five years as an HR professional, Lorrin Andrews was looking to further her education and gain exposure in the process of employment law mediation. “I felt really lucky to hear the professionals speak about the different topics that came into discussion... Their expertise and openness were very much appreciated. They gave great scenarios and explained the importance of being fully prepared for different scenarios that could come up in your career in the future.” Read more
