

OSGOODE'S

FULL-TIME LLM IN TAXATION LAW

Bhuvana Rai, JD, LLM
Tax Lawyer and Founder
Mors & Tribute P.C.

Develop your expertise with Canada's foremost Professional LLM for Canadian and internationally-trained tax lawyers.

Deepen your knowledge. Broaden your perspective.

Osgoode's full-time Professional LLM in Taxation Law gives you the chance to step away from your practice to think critically about what you know and how you can build on it. Take the time to learn from thought leaders who push boundaries and exert influence in academic scholarship, policy making, law reform and public debate.

“I decided to take a sabbatical from my practice to delve deeper into my passion for tax law. The opportunity to be taught by tax industry leaders like Professor Jinyan Li, and to engage in class with other experienced and qualified peers was an opportunity only Osgoode could provide.”

Johann Du Plessis, BComm, LLB, LLM
Tax Lawyer, Arcus Legal

“I was worried about how I would be perceived going in [to the LLM] given that I had a previous career in another area of law and how I would make out, but those fears were dispensed within my very first course. My prof made it so that everybody could contribute – it didn't matter that I came to tax via a non-linear / non-traditional path. I could dispense with the concern and participate with ease.”

Angela I. Salvatore, BA, JD, LLM

Why Choose Osgoode?

Designed for Experienced Professionals

You'll get an academic experience through coursework that enhances your skillset and knowledge through discussions with fellow tax professionals. Full-time students are encouraged to explore scholarship by writing a major research paper.

Top-Notch Instructors

Get access to some of the leading minds in taxation law and policies, and leverage their experiences to help your growth.

Location

Get the best of both worlds with classes held in two locations: downtown Toronto, and at York University's Keele Campus. Immerse yourself in the hustle and bustle of one of the world's top-rated cities. Experience the culture, cuisine and social life that Toronto has to offer, and find out firsthand why the UN rates Canada as one of the best countries in the world to live in.

Build Your Network

Build relationships and study with professionals from around the globe right in your classroom. These are your future friends, clients and colleagues.

Diverse Set of Peers

Open to candidates with a JD/LLB or equivalent from anywhere in the world. You'll be joined by classmates in the part-time program who are practising lawyers or tax professionals.

Program Format and Duration

Full-time Studies | Students study in person in Toronto and typically take 3-4 courses (12 credits) per term, covering a wide range of topics in taxation law. Annual required and core offerings include foundational tax law and policy, corporate tax, and international tax. Elective course options change each academic year and may include courses on tax litigation, financial instruments, estate and trust taxation, and US tax law. The program will generally require 3 terms (12 months). Students are required to complete 36 credits obtained through coursework and a Major Research Paper, or coursework only. Your progress and performance are evaluated through papers, presentations and take-home assignments.

Required Course

Tax Policy, Statutory Interpretation and the Foundations of the Taxation of Individuals [6 credits]

This course deals with the various theories of tax interpretation and styles of tax analysis and then covers: (1) The basic principles, theories, and tools of analysis needed for discussion of tax policy and planning issues; (2) Recent theories of statutory interpretation and trends in the judicial interpretation of tax laws. The need for, and problems with, implementing anti-avoidance rules are examined; and (3) An exploration of changing conceptions of the deep structure that underlies the income tax system.

Sample of Elective Courses

Tax Administration and Litigation [3 credits]

The structure of the Canadian tax system and the theoretical and practical issues that arise in its administration are covered; the role of the Department of Finance, administration of the Income Tax Act by the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA), civil and criminal sanctions, methods of proof, CRA prosecution policies, investigative techniques, processing procedures, search warrants, Charter rights and lawyer-client privilege, defending criminal prosecutions, tax court practice, and issues in international tax enforcement.

Taxation of Financial Instruments [3 credits]

This course scrutinizes the current Canadian law and the basic policies relating to the taxation of financial instruments including all forms of derivative instruments. It compares the Canadian law in this developing area to the experience in other jurisdictions, in particular, the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

Taxation of Corporate Reorganizations [3 credits]

Topics covered include transfer of property to a corporation, reorganizations into corporate form, reorganizations of the capital of a corporation, transfers of property out of a corporation, the termination of the existence of a corporation and migrations of corporations into and out of Canada. The in-depth, applied approach reviewed in the course will enable practitioners involved in tax planning to research and apply the tax law and requirements applicable to corporate reorganizations.
